PROTECTING THE INTERESTS OF AFFORDABLE HOUSING PROPERTY MANAGERS AND OWNERS

Take Home an Original Piece of Art at the NAHMA Fall Meeting

Alexandria, Va., Sept. 21, 2016 — Be one of the first to own an original Yusuf Ibrahim. How about a one-of-a-kind Anya Baker? Those are just a couple of the artists whose work will be featured in the National Affordable Housing Management Association (NAHMA) Educational Foundation poster auction during the association's fall meeting in October. Besides the auction, the three-day event includes the keynote luncheon, educational panels, committee meetings and networking opportunities. Preregister before Sept. 30 and save $50.

The auction, which benefits the foundation's scholarship program, features artwork—created by children, seniors and adults with special needs living in affordable multifamily housing—that was chosen to appear in the 2017 NAHMA Drug-Free Kids calendar. This year's contest tackled an important issue in many people's lives with the theme, Words That Heal: Stop Bullying, Spread Kindness.

The pieces that will be going to the highest bidder include all of the national winners of the annual poster and art contest, as well as the honorable mentions. In all, 21 works of art will be available at the auction, Oct. 24.

NAHMA's Regulatory Issues fall meeting, Oct. 23-25, takes place at the Fairmont Washington, 2401 M St. NW, Washington, DC. The October meeting is packed with everything you need to know about what is trending in the affordable housing industry.

The NAHMA room block single/double rate is $315. The discounted rooms are booked on a first-come, first-served basis and expire on or before Sept. 30 depending on availability. Reserve your room online today, <https://aws.passkey.com/event/12050518/owner/56417/home>.

Event registration includes admission to the keynote luncheon, as well as the committee meetings and educational panels, which feature representatives from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, U.S. Department of Agricultural Rural Development, and other industry experts. To see the full preliminary agenda, visit the Meetings page on the NAHMA website.
