What's in Store for Affordable Housing? Find out at NAHMA's March Meeting

Alexandria, Va., Feb. 3, 2017 — Learn about the state of affordable housing across the country, projections on impacts of the new administration, as well as future demographic changes at the National Affordable Housing Management Association (NAHMA) annual winter meeting, March 5-7. Don't forget, the early registration discount and guaranteed reduced room rates end today, Feb. 3, at 5 p.m. EST.

The three-day event features educational panels, networking opportunities, Industry and AHMA Awards ceremony and the Communities of Quality Awards luncheon. The event concludes with prearranged Capitol Hill meetings with congressional representatives and their staff.

A highlight of the meeting is the numerous educational panels specifically geared toward the affordable housing industry that are led by the people who are experts in their fields. Among them is The Future Demographics of Affordable Housing and Other Trends presented by David Smith, chairman of Recap Real Estate Advisors, on Monday.

Additionally, the Affiliates Committee will start Monday with a panel discussion on the Trends in Technology: Affordable Multifamily Technology, presented by Dan Gaddis of Ancillary Analytics, Gustavo Sapiurka of RealPage and Leo Delgado of Converged Services during the general membership breakfast. And of course, invited senior staff from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Department of Agriculture's Rural Development and other industry experts will talk about issues involving tax reform, senior housing, rural housing and more.

Meeting registration includes admission to the COQ Awards luncheon, Industry Awards reception, committee meetings and educational panels. To see the full preliminary agenda, visit the Meetings page on the NAHMA website.

Prospective members receive free meeting registration while current members who register by 5 p.m. EST today save $50. Even though prospective members can attend the meeting at no charge, preregistration is required. This offer is limited to one staff member per company and may only be used once per person.

The winter meeting, focused on federal policy issues, takes place at the Fairmont Washington, 2401 M St. NW, Washington, D.C., March 5-7. The NAHMA room block single/double rate is $320. The discounted rooms are booked on a first-come, first-served basis and expire today, Feb. 3, depending on availability. Reserve your room online today, <https://aws.passkey.com/event/13693190/owner/56417/home>.

The NAHMA meeting is made possible by Platinum sponsors, HD Supply Multifamily Solutions and Yardi.
