NAHMA Presents People Skills Webinar to Focus on Modern-Day Management

Alexandria, Va., Dec. 18, 2017 — Learn what it takes to be a good manager in the 21st century with the webinar NAHMA Presents Key People Skills for Property Management Staffers: Management in the Modern Workplace. This is your chance to learn good relationship skills, how to create an environment where everyone can do their best work and to find creative ways to achieve important goals through a live 90-minute, interactive webinar. The session takes place Tuesday, Jan. 16, beginning at 2 p.m. Eastern, and is led by Brenda Harrington, founder of Adaptive Leadership Strategies LLC. Register for the training session through your local AHMA today.

Topics for the session include:

- Developing your management style
- The importance of Emotional Intelligence
- Establishing presence and credibility
- Connecting with direct reports, peers and your manager
- Managing to get results

This webinar is designed for property management staffers; corporate or headquarters staff, including regional and district managers; mid- and entry-level managers and supervisors; compliance specialists; and human resources, accounting and technical staff.

Harrington works with private, public and nonprofit organizations to improve performance by helping staff members work with greater agility and expanded leadership capacity. She previously served as executive vice president of operations for a large property management and consulting firm. She is a moderator on the Global Delivery Team for Harvard Business School Publishing (HBP), where she facilitates leadership development courses for HBP corporate clients worldwide. Harrington received her Certification for Leadership Coaching from Georgetown University and is certified by the International Coach Federation.

The webinar is brought to you by NAHMA and is hosted by Rocky AHMA. Contact information for your local AHMA can be found by visiting the AHMA Directory map at nahma.org and clicking on the AHMA nearest to your location.
