NAHMA Presents People Skills Webinar Focusing on Strategic Thinking

Alexandria, Va., Oct. 4, 2018 — Explore what it means to be a strategic thinker and learn a new approach for anticipating and solving problems with the webinar NAHMA Presents Key People Skills for Property Management Staffers: Strategic Thinking and Problem Solving. This is your chance to break out of your routine and learn to work more efficiently, become a better communicator and achieve better results through a live 90-minute, interactive webinar. The session takes place Tuesday, Nov. 27, beginning at 2 p.m. Eastern, and is led by Brenda Harrington, founder of Adaptive Leadership Strategies LLC. Register for the training session through your local AHMA today.

Topics for the session include:

- Critical thinking
- Making decisions with greater impact
- Understanding how to connect the dots

This webinar is designed for property management staffers; corporate or headquarters staff, including regional and district managers; mid- and entry-level managers and supervisors; compliance specialists; and human resources, accounting and technical staff.

Harrington works with private, public and nonprofit organizations to improve performance by helping staff members work with greater agility and expanded leadership capacity. She previously served as executive vice president of operations for a large property management and consulting firm. She is a moderator on the Global Delivery Team for Harvard Business School Publishing (HBP), where she facilitates leadership development courses for HBP corporate clients worldwide. Harrington received her Certification for Leadership Coaching from Georgetown University and is certified by the International Coach Federation.

The webinar is brought to you by NAHMA and is hosted by Rocky AHMA. Contact information for your local AHMA can be found by visiting the AHMA Directory map at nahma.org and clicking on the AHMA nearest to your location.
