Hear the Latest News in Affordable Housing at NAHMA's March Meeting

Alexandria, Va., Jan. 17, 2019 — The 2019 National Affordable Housing Management Association (NAHMA) Biannual Top Issues in Affordable Housing winter conference is the best place to learn about the latest trends in Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) programs, housing tax credits, senior living, rural housing and more. Register for the meeting today and save $50. And don't forget to book your hotel room while you are at it. The discounted rooms are booked on a first-come, first-served basis and expire on or before Feb. 10, depending on availability. The room reservation requires a separate registration from the NAHMA meeting.

The three-day event features educational panels, networking opportunities, the Industry Awards evening reception and the Communities of Quality (COQ) Awards luncheon. The event concludes with prearranged Capitol Hill meetings with congressional representatives and their staff.

The annual conference features a number of educational panels specifically geared toward the affordable housing industry that are led by the people who are experts in their fields. This year's invited guests include Joel Baxley, administrator for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Rural Development; Dominique Blom, general deputy assistant secretary, Public and Indian Housing for HUD; Jen Brewerton, vice president of compliance, property management, Dominion; Emily Cadik, executive director, Affordable Housing Tax Credit Coalition; Linda Couch, vice president of housing policy, LeadingAge; Donald Lavoy, deputy assistant secretary of HUD's Real Estate Assessment Center; Andrea Ponsor, chief operating officer and executive vice president for policy, Stewards of Affordable Housing for the Future; Corianne Payton Scally, senior research associate, Urban Institute and C. Lamar Seats, deputy assistant secretary, Office of Multifamily Housing Programs for HUD.

Panels featuring government officials and other special guests are not open to the media and may not be recorded.

Event registration includes admission to all of the sessions, as well as the COQ Awards luncheon and Industry Awards ceremony, both of which take place Monday, March 4. To see the full preliminary agenda, visit the Meetings page on the NAHMA website. The NAHMA meeting is made possible by Platinum sponsors, HD Supply Multifamily Solutions, ResMan, USI Insurance Services and Yardi Systems.

The winter meeting takes place at the Fairmont Washington, 2401 M St. NW, Washington, D.C., March 3-5. The NAHMA room block single/double rate is $330. The discounted rooms are booked on a first-come, first-served basis and expire on or before Feb. 10, depending on availability.
