PROTECTING THE INTERESTS OF AFFORDABLE HOUSING PROPERTY MANAGERS AND OWNERS

D.C. Lifts Coronavirus Mandates in Time for NAHMA's March Meeting

Alexandria, Va., Feb. 14, 2022 — By the time of the in-person National Affordable Housing Management Association (NAHMA)'s Biannual Top Issues in Affordable Housing winter conference, the District of Columbia's government coronavirus requirements will have expired or been scaled back. Masks will no longer be required in most indoor settings as of March 1; however, individual businesses will still have the right to require customers to wear them. Masks will be required for public transportation, taxis and rideshare services. Additionally, the current D.C. proof of vaccination requirement to enter public businesses will be rescinded effective Feb. 15. In an abundance of caution and at the direction of its Board of Directors, NAHMA is requiring that all attendees to the NAHMA March 2022 meeting must be vaccinated against COVID-19 or test negative 72 hours prior to the event. Register today to attend the meeting; hotel room reservations require a separate registration from the NAHMA meeting.

Don't miss your chance to hear the latest on the issues impacting the affordable housing industry. After a two-year pause, the in-person NAHMA Biannual Top Issues in Affordable Housing winter conference at the Fairmont Washington in Washington, D.C., is back. Unlike past in-person meetings, we will be gathering Wednesday through Friday. The multiday event, March 9-11, will feature panels concentrating on the issues facing affordable housing practitioners and educational topics for navigating today's world led by experts in their fields.

The annual meeting features several educational panels geared explicitly toward the affordable housing industry. Invited guests include representatives from the Housing and Urban Development and Agriculture departments and more. Panels featuring government officials and other special guests are not open to the media and may not be recorded. Event registration includes admission to all sessions and open committee meetings, the Communities of Quality Awards luncheon and panel discussion, and the Industry Awards ceremony. Both awards celebrations take place Thursday, March 10.

The winter meeting takes place at the Fairmont Washington, 2401 M St. NW, Washington, D.C., March 9-11. The NAHMA room block single/double rate is $369. The discounted rooms are booked on a first-come, first-served basis and expire on or before Feb. 14, depending on availability. Reserve your room online today, <https://book.passkey.com/event/49909197/owner/56417/home>.

For an at-a-glance preliminary agenda and up-to-date meeting protocols, visit the Meetings page on the NAHMA website. The NAHMA meeting is made possible by Platinum sponsors HD Supply, OMNIA Partners, Multifamily Housing and USI; Gold sponsors Allergy Technologies and ResMan; Silver sponsor HAI Group; and Bronze sponsor Dauby O'Connor & Zaleski LLC.

Members planning to attend the meeting need to be aware that the District of Columbia's COVID restrictions are set to expire by the meeting. However, NAHMA encourages attendees to visit coronavirus.dc.gov for the latest updates.

Per the D.C. government, masks will no longer be required in most indoor settings as of March 1; however, individual businesses will still have the right to require customers to wear them. Masks will be required for public transportation, taxis and rideshare services. Additionally, the current D.C. proof of vaccination requirement to enter public businesses will be rescinded effective Feb. 15.

In an abundance of caution and at the direction of its Board of Directors, NAHMA is requiring that all attendees to the NAHMA March 2022 meeting must be vaccinated against COVID-19 or test negative 72 hours prior to the event.

NAHMA will update members of changing requirements if needed.
