NAHMA, Pearl Meyer Release 2022 Affordable Housing Compensation Survey Report

Alexandria, Va., Nov. 17, 2022 — The National Affordable Housing Management Association (NAHMA) and Pearl Meyer are pleased to announce the release of the 2022 NAHMA Affordable Housing Compensation Survey report. The report provides affordable housing real estate companies with current information on key organization metrics and compensation program structure/design characteristics. In addition, competitive compensation levels are provided—both 2021 actual awards and 2022 target opportunities—for 104 positions. A sample of the report is available on the NAHMA website under the About Us tab. The full report can be purchased by visiting the NAHMA page on the Pearl Meyer website.

A total of 74 companies participated in the survey. Participating companies are provided with valuable data to benchmark compensation for employees working in the affordable housing industry as well as various facets of real estate. If you wish to participate in next year's survey, contact Veronika Valcheva at veronika.valcheva@pearlmeyer.com.

The sample report, which is free to all NAHMA-AHMA members, provides the overall average base salary and total compensation for each role presented in the survey. Also, the Pearl Meyer survey team members would be available as speakers for AHMA webinars and conferences to share insights on the survey findings.
