NAHMA's March Meeting Puts You in the Room With the Experts

Alexandria, Va., Jan. 18, 2023 — The National Affordable Housing Management Association (NAHMA) is looking forward to welcoming members and other industry partners to its Biannual Top Issues in Affordable Housing winter conference at the Fairmont Washington in Washington, D.C. The multiday event, Wednesday, March 8-Friday, March 10, will feature panels concentrating on the issues facing affordable housing practitioners and educational topics for navigating today's world led by experts in their fields. Register to attend the meeting today before prices increase on Feb. 13. Hotel room reservations require a separate registration from the NAHMA meeting.

The annual meeting features several educational panels geared explicitly toward the affordable housing industry. Stockton Williams, executive director of the National Council of State Housing Agencies, will provide the keynote presentation. Other invited guests include representatives from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and more. Panels featuring government officials and other special guests are not open to the media and may not be recorded.

Event registration includes admission to all sessions and open committee meetings, the Communities of Quality Awards luncheon and panel discussion, and the Industry Awards ceremony. Both awards celebrations take place Thursday, March 9.

The winter meeting occurs at the Fairmont Washington, 2401 M St. NW, Washington, D.C., March 8-10. The NAHMA room block single/double rate is $369. The discounted rooms are booked on a first-come, first-served basis and expire on or before Feb. 13, depending on availability. Reserve your room online today, <https://book.passkey.com/e/50445701>.
